RETURN OF COLONIES WOULD ADD IMPETUS TO ARMAMENTS RACE

Committee Says Redistribution of African Mandated Territory Would Engender New Conflicts Which Would Spread Beyond Europe— Would Remove Free Trade Rights

LONDON, Nov. 24 (CP-Havas).—Redistribution of African mandated territory would only add impetus to the armaments race and engender new conflicts which would spread beyond the confines of Europe, a non-official committee made up of interested parties in Great Britain and South Africa reported tonight.

The committee's memorandum, submitted to Parliament, said establishment of German air bases in Tanganyika would threaten communications with South Africa and that creation of a German naval base in former German colonies would menace Empire shipping routes.

WOULD FORCE INCREASES
If German demands were granted, the report said, it would be necessary to strengthen the defenses of Southern Rhodesia and the Union of South Africa as well as Britain's East African possessions and to reinforce the British fleet so it could maintain superiority in the Indian Ocean.

The committee added that return to Germany of the mandated African territories might take away from other member states of the League of Nations any rights to free trade and navigation which they now enjoy.

PRODUCTION IS SMALL
The memorandum recalled the German propaganda minister, Paul Goebbels, had said the four basic materials in modern industry were cotton, coal, iron and oil. It remarked the total production of all the African colonies did not represent more than four per cent of the world output of these products.

FOUND ALIVE IN WRECKED HOME
Three-Year-Old Girl, Rescued After Landslide, Dies in Hospital

JUNEAU, Nov. 24 (AP).—Lorraine Vanali, three, died in a hospital here tonight two hours after she was rescued from a landslide in which she lay buried for two days.

Her life was the seventh claimed by the muddy avalanche which swept through an apartment house district here on Sunday night.

APPARENTLY UNHURT
The child was found alive and apparently unhurt tonight as rescue crews dove into the mass of earth and burning, broken wood.

Lorraine, protected by a triangle of timbers, was discovered in the demolished Niekovich Apartments not far from where five bodies were recovered yesterday and where debris burned today.

Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vanali, and a guest, Pete Battalo, who were together with the child in the apartment on Sunday, were still listed as missing, though there was a possibility one dead woman found might be Mrs. Vanali.

A LONG TIME
"I've been here a long time," Lorraine told her rescuers. She could give no further account of her experience.

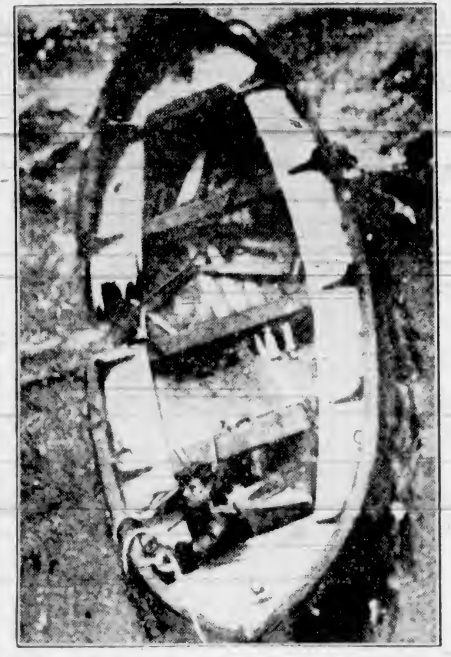

The finding of the child alive gave renewed impetus to the rescue crews and revived hopes others holed up in the debris might be living. Fears grew, however, that other trapped victims were being burned, for flames leaped through scattered parts of the Niekovich Apartments.

Six bodies have been recovered. Eight persons are still missing.

Swept Overboard In Northern Gale
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 24 (AP).—Captain Edith Berger of the motor ship Discoverer, telephoned from Seward tonight the vessel's second mate, Barney Smith, about forty, was swept overboard by a terrific storm off Kodiak Peninsula, but the ship reached port safely with thirteen Seattle-bound passengers.

As Only Survivor Rescued

Fritz Roethke, a cabin boy, was the only survivor of a crew of forty on the German cargo boat, Isis, which foundered 200 miles off Land's End. He was picked up by the German St. Westerland and taken to Southampton. This photograph was taken just as the lad was about to grasp the line thrown from the rescue ship.

Denies Meeting Any Interference In Enforcing Act

Vancouver Police Chief Tells Inquiry Into Tucker Report of Difficulties in Dealing With Bootlegging Situation—Club Licensing to Be Subject of Close Study

VANCOUVER, Nov. 24 (AP).—Recommendation that liquor permits be "strictly endorsed" when large liquor purchases are made by individuals was made today by Chief Constable W. W. Foster, giving evidence at the inquiry here into the report of W. A. Tucker, former police department accountant.

Colonel Foster said some difficulty had been experienced in dealing with the bootlegging situation in Vancouver. He said, however, he had never met any interference from British Columbia Provincial Police or Government authorities in enforcing the Liquor Act.

SHOULD BE NOTIFIED
The witness advocated that the Liquor Board should notify police of large individual purchases as one means of providing clues to persons engaged in bootlegging.

He also favored institution of a "direct reply" of a nature not revealed.

IMPUDENT CHALLENGE
"Bestowing the Nobel Prize on a notorious traitor," the statement continued, "is an impudent challenge and insult to the new Germany."

"A proper, direct answer will follow."

(Announcement of the award with that for 1936 to Foreign Minister Carlos Saavedra Lamas, of the Argentine, at Oslo, Norway, today caused German Minister Falm to assert it will create the embitterment of Germany.)

(A committee of the Norwegian Parliament selected the prize-winners after two of its members—Dr. Halvdan Koht, Foreign Minister and Dr. J. L. Mowinkel, leader of the Opposition—resigned to avoid any opportunity of Germany's holding the Norwegian Government responsible.)

Although visitors to the huge West End hospital in Berlin, where Oleskiy was taken after his release from custody, received a courteous welcome, they were firmly discouraged from seeing the pacifist.

"Yes, he has a good chance for recovery. He might, soon be able to leave the hospital."

BLAST ON SHIP CLAIMS LIVES
Fate of Nine Will Not Be Known Until Hatches Reopened

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24 (AP).—At least four men were injured and a number of others were missing in an explosion and fire in a hatch on the Ss. Seantic, of the Moremark Line, tonight.

Police said "Maybe seven, maybe four" men were working in the hatch when the fire started.

The vessel was laid up for installation of refrigerating apparatus. The boat was cut loose from the dock and floated down the Mississippi River to be beached on the East Bank.

NINE MEN MISSING
Watkins-Johnson, president of the drydock company installing the refrigerating apparatus, said six white men and three negroes, all believed a work when the fire started, were missing.

"I do not know whether these men perished or not," he said.

The flames were battled for several hours before the hatch was sealed and steam sprayed inside to extinguish the fire. Water was also pumped in.

Officials said they would not know if there were any fatalities until it rains when the water is all pumped out.

SHARKS HELP FISHERMAN
HALIFAX, Nov. 24 (AP).—Sharks brought money to the pockets of Halifax fishermen during the week-end when they drove some 40,000 mackerel inshore for an unusually late catch.

Scores Injured in Wreck of Train On Chicago Line

Passenger-Filled Rear-End Coach Demolished in Terrific Collision

NUMBER FATALITY HURT MAY BE TWENTY

CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP).—A three car all-steel train of the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Road telescoped the crowded rear wooden car of an elevated express tonight, killing several passengers and injuring at least seventy-five others.

Police estimated at least ten riders in the demolished car were fatally injured. The smashup reduced it to matchwood. Men, women and children were catapulted along the tracks and some dropped off the twenty-foot span to the ground.

Deputy coroners, after surveying the wreckage and some of the injured, estimated the death list might reach twenty.

The North Shore train, a special running to suburban Mundelein, bore down on the molten eight-car Loyola express at Granville station, on the far north side.

HURTLES INTO EXPRESS
Before it could be stopped, the heavy steel train hurtled into the packed express, shearing through it for approximately three-quarters of its length.

The fire department dispatched three ambulances. Three neighboring police districts sent additional ambulances and squad cars.

HOLD PARLEY ON ELEVATOR
Ogden Point Terminal May Be Taken Over and Operated by H. Kavenar

Panama Pacific Grain Terminal Limited, elevator at Ogden Point may be taken over and operated by a company headed by Harvey Kavenar, of Winnipeg, as the result of a conference yesterday afternoon between the City Council finance and business and trade development committees and D. S. Tait, of Tait & Marchant, representing Mr. Kavenar. Mayor David Leeming presided.

Aldermen Archie Willis, Mayor Leeming, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, and D. A. Macdonald, city treasurer, were present.

Mr. Kavenar's proposals Mr. Pringle and Mr. Tait were urged to examine the lease upon the elevator to see if there were any obstacles in the way of turning it over to a company to be organized by Mr. Kavenar.

At the outset of the meeting, Mayor Leeming pointed out the lease upon the elevator site from the Federal Government was $10,000 per year, but only $1 per year when it was not in use. He said fire and dock insurance cost the city $200 per year.

Mr. Tait stated one of the objects of operating the elevator would be to make feed available for wholesale as to manure—he married his help—wife for her money.

BUDAPEST, Nov. 24 (AP).—Honor-loving Dr. Franz Sarga shot one of his nine challenged adversaries in the arm today, embraced a second opponent after both had missed, and ran home aquiver with triumph to tell his wife the score stood two up and seven to go.

Broke Dr. Sarga borrowed $10 to rent the fourteen-inch erratic dueling pistols used in the encounters because neither of Sarga's opponents today was strong enough to make passes with the eight-pound cavalry sabres originally selected.

TROOPS SENT TO HELP OF NORTH CHINA

National Forces Will Aid Suiyuan in Repelling In-vading Armies

GOVERNMENT READY WITH FULL SUPPORT

PEIPING, China, Nov. 25 (AP).—Nanking warplanes and troops reached Kweisui, native newspapers reported today, to aid Suiyuan Province in war against invading armies, which Chinese officials assert, are under Japanese command.

The troops were from Shanxi Province and poured into Suiyuan aboard several trains which congested traffic between Tatum, Northern Shanxi and Kweisui.

AGAINST THREAT
They had been moved from South China earlier this fall by Dictator General Chiang Kai-shek to guard against the threatened Mongol invasion and to insure loyalty of former Manchukuan troops already in the area.

These troops were reported discontented by lack of prompt pay and comfortable quarters and by the discomforts of the North China climate. There were rumors of a projected coup to carve out an independent state and numerous desertions to bandit armies.

IN STRATEGIC POSITION
So Chiang transferred the present forces from Central and West China to enforce discipline and to have a large army strategically situated near the Suiyuan border when the first Mongol invasions began in July.

The general was said to believe he thus would have sufficient power to forestall any Manchukuan attempt

FIREMEN WILL AID IN SEARCH

Men Off Duty to Join Forces Hunting for Girl Hiker On Mainland

VANCOUVER, Nov. 24 (AP).—Members of the Vancouver Fire Department tonight prepared to answer the plea of a father whose twenty-two-year-old daughter has been missing five days in the Lynn Valley district of North Vancouver.

Arthur Young, president of the city firemen's union, announced tonight firemen not slated for duty tomorrow would start a thorough search of the district where Betty Charnick disappeared last Friday.

Entrances of firemen into the search was made after the girl's father, C. E. Charnick, of Burnaby, had asked their assistance.

FIND NO TRACE
For the past four days three searchers directed by British Columbia Police have scoured the district without finding a trace of the missing girl hiker.

A handkerchief initialed with a "C" was found near a point where several residents said they had seen a girl resembling her description, but it was not known whether or not it belonged to Miss Charnick.

Meanwhile the city police boat crew, aided by a Royal Canadian Air Force plane, continued their unsuccessful search of the waters of English Bay for the body of a girl reported floating off the Jericho Beach Air Station yesterday.

The water search will be continued tomorrow.

MURDER CHARGE FOLLOWS BLAZE

Sydney Mines Man Arrested After Confession Obtained From Suspected Accomplice

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Nov. 24 (AP).—Darius MacNeil, twenty-two, of Sydney Mines, was charged with murder tonight in connection with the death of Wilfred Poulton, thirty-eight-year-old invalid war veteran, in a $200,000 fire that raged three business blocks in the Cape Breton "City" town on November 16.

Yesterday Police Chief Vincent Hall and Capt. D. A. Noble, of Montreal, N.B., head of the Fire Investigators Bureau of Canada, announced they had obtained a "confession" from an accomplice of a man they suspected of setting the blaze.

Poulton, who lived in an apartment over a store in the Archibald Block where the fire started, was burned to death in the blaze. Firemen rescued his wife.

MacNeil was arrested after a confession was obtained from a suspected accomplice.

F.J. Crowhurst Named President of S.P.C.A. Here for Third Term

J. T. Braden Re-elected Vice-President at Annual Session—A. R. Sherwood Appointed Secretary—Treasurer for Eighth Successive Year

F. J. CROWHURST was re-elected president of the Victoria Branch of the British Columbia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for his third successive year at the organization's annual meeting last night in the Campbell Building.

J. T. Braden was returned as vice-president, while A. R. Sherwood was re-elected secretary-treasurer for his eighth consecutive term. Lindsey Crease, K.C., was re-appointed honorary counsel, while Mrs. R. Hamilton, H. Keown and M. L. Olson were again appointed honorary veterinary surgeons of the local branch.

The general committee elected included Mrs. C. A. McGee, Commander C. H. R. Stungby, William G. Lemm, Harry Dods, Lady Emily Walker, Capt. A. A. Ramsone, A.

of the local branch. Mr. Crowhurst referred to the excellent showing made by the Duncan Society since its formation. He stated the list of junior members of the organization was increasing and he expected a junior branch to be active during the coming year.

The membership was numerically stronger and the finances sounder than at any other time in the history of the society. Mr. Sherwood told members in submitting his annual report as secretary-treasurer. He said a favorable bank balance was on hand to the society's credit.

Efforts were being made through the British Columbia Legislature to secure more humane methods of ensnaring animals. Mr. Sherwood reported. He outlined progress made by the S.P.C.A. in preventing film studios from abusing animals during the filming of stories. The Will H. Hays office in Hollywood was co-operating in every way, the secretary stated.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT

In a lengthy report covering four pages, Mr. Allen outlined the work he had carried out as inspector during the past year. Though some suspects were searched, no evidence of the use of batteries or dope was found at the race meet held at the Willows, he reported. Cattle and horses were protected from the rigors of last winter through the activity of the society. Mr. Allen told members. Food for small birds was also distributed. Sick, stray and unwanted cats were destroyed and dogs and other domestic animals were cared for by the society.

During the year 448 cases were attended by the inspector, and 3,876 animals inspected. He reported that 110 animals had been destroyed and three convictions had been obtained out of three prosecutions. Praise for the co-operation of all police departments was extended by Mr. Allen.

Stanley Blyth submitted the auditor's statement.

F. J. CROWHURST

Neville Smith, Miss Marjo Robertson, Mrs. E. M. Leonard and J. I. Seabrook. W. B. Anders was appointed collector and George A. Allen was again named inspector.

REVIEWS YEAR

A general resume of the year's activities was contained in a report submitted by Mr. Crowhurst. He paid tribute to the memories of the late John Harvey, Sir Frank Barnard and Hon. P. B. Gregory, who had all been valued members.

VIOLINIST HAS FLAWLESS ART

Kayla Mitzel, Young Canadian Musician, Again Delights Victoria Audience

Compelling the highest admiration and applause when she appeared in her first recital here two years ago, Kayla Mitzel, brilliant young Canadian violinist, again delighted the audience with her flawless art.

Compelling the highest admiration and applause when she appeared in her first recital here two years ago, Kayla Mitzel, brilliant young Canadian violinist, again delighted the audience with her flawless art. Her playing was characterized by a maturity, has attained skill greater stature, musically, and her recital at the Empire Theatre last night evoked the highest enthusiasm from the audience present.

A brilliant virtuoso, a stylist, possessing definite temperament, a masculine strength and firmness of tone, this young musician has an instinctive as well as a cultivated genius, a fine balance of the intellectual and the emotional, of the carefully studied and the highly inspired, that places her in the very first rank of contemporary women violinists. Last night's recital was another memorable demonstration of the superb potentialities of the violin in the realm of interpretive and technical art, in a sense all the more impressive because of the absence of any effort on Miss Mitzel's part to project her personality through any other medium than that of her instrument.

THE PROGRAMME

The programme showed catholicity of taste—Handel, Bach, Paganini, the rarely-heard Suk then Chopin and Sarasate. Although not a single encore was added, this made a well-rounded and satisfying evening. The Handel Sonata in E Major in four movements was used to open the recital, the silky flexible tone in the leisurely adagio giving instantaneous evidence of the finely-matured technique and complete authority of the player. In changed mood, the allegro movement betrayed the consistent individuality of tone, although with much accented trills. The large, round, firm, bell-like tone showing sensitive control of bow, and the closing allegro movement power and good dramatic climax.

An exciting test-piece unapproachable to any but the high initiates, is the Bach "Chaconne" for violin alone. The technical difficulties of this were masterfully surmounted, and superlatively fine virtuosity was proved by the way Miss Mitzel held the entranced interest of her audience. Her treatment of the two simultaneously played melodies was something to remember, both for executional skill and expressiveness, the diatonic effect made particularly beautiful by the flawless intonation, the perfect control, and the clarity of treatment.

The first part of the programme concluded with the Paganini Concerto in D Major. Here there was masculine strength of tone, directness, detachment, vitality and energy. Conspicuously good was the instantaneous manner in which transition was made from mood to mood, and from the passionate of florid brilliance to the quiet and wistful.

AFTER-INTERMISSION
Following an over-long intermission, Miss Mitzel returned to the stage to play two numbers by the unfamiliar Suk. Quasi Brahmsian haunting thing with a wistful little theme, statement being repeated with the minor and "Appassionato" shivery brilliant admirably suited to the temperament of the player. In these two numbers the accompanist Jave Rubanoff who throughout showed sensitive anticipation of the violinist's mood, and exquisite taste—was exceptionally skilful in providing the rich yet faint pianistic background. The Chopin-Mazurka "Nocturne" and the Sarasate "Zigeunerweisen" which concluded the programme were enthusiastically received, the former showing again the beautiful warm, singing tone—and the latter a luxuriant exuberance of technique the two rounding out a truly distinguished performance.

GIVING HIM A LIFT

Agriculturists Review Pasture Land Problems

Members of Victoria and Islands Branch of Canadian Society Hear Interesting Discussions at First of Fall Supper Meetings

The first fall supper-meeting of the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists was held recently.

The evening's subject was "Pasture Problems," and the speaker was Hesse de Burgh, Provost of Island. Mr. De Burgh is owner and operator of 1,500 acres of land on Provost Island, close to Salt Spring Island, and is conducting extensive trials with various grasses and other herbage. He is a firm believer in grass farming, claiming that millions of acres of farm lands in America were ruined by too much tillage. Among the crops that could be used to advantage on dry, rocky land was the grass. This he claimed was deep rooted and provided good grazing throughout the year. August, he said, was the right time to sow it.

LIVESTOCK AND GRASSES

On Provost Island Mr. De Burgh keeps Hampshire Down sheep, Angora goats, as well as cattle and believes in a variety of grasses as well as livestock. He is also a believer in grass ensilage and advocated a spare sile for every farm so as to tide over unfavorable seasons. Mr. De Burgh is the author of a book on ensilage and silo construction.

A lively discussion followed Dr. William Steinhilber, referred to work done on hill pasture improvement in Wales and the great interest taken in that work by the British Ministry of Agriculture.

Dr. Steinhilber stated that the cost of milk production on Vancouver Island during the summer months was heavy and that there was a great need for deep-rooted grasses to tide over such dry periods.

NEW ZEALAND FARMER

Another interesting speaker was Mr. Barr, from Auckland, New Zealand. Mr. Barr is a native of the Ottawa Valley, Ontario, who has made an extensive tour of Canada, including the Prairie Provinces. Emigrating to New Zealand forty years ago, he now operates 1,500 acres of farm land and keeps 2,200 breeding ewes and 250 head of cattle. His land carries an average of six sheep per acre and in some areas he is able to carry as high as twelve sheep to the acre. This is done on good grass land.

He stated that during the pioneering days of New Zealand, trees were felled and burnt, since there was no timber market. Grass sown at the rate of thirty-five pounds per acre was then sown on this grass mixture are carefully selected according to location, shade, etc., and after sowing, the grass is treated properly through drainage, scientific fertilization, etc. In sheep farming, grass must be kept down by grazing or even mowing if found necessary. He stated that the loss of surface soil on the Canadian Prairies is a tremendous loss to the country and on account of this, farmers will be kept poor for years to come unless a drastic change takes place. He is a great believer in grass farming.

STOP! THAT COLD!

A common cold can take hold quickly and develop seriously unless prompt and efficient measures are taken to stop it the first day.

To treat it properly you've got to realize that a cold is an internal infection requiring internal treatment that goes right to the source of the infection, quickly and effectively.

1. It cures the bowels gently but effectively.
2. It combats the cold germs and leaves in the system.
3. It relieves nasal catarrh and "croupy" feelings.
4. It tones up the system and keeps it ready against further attacks.

At the first sign of a cold go to your drug store. Buy a box of GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Make sure you get a box at a time. If taken promptly GROVE'S BROMO QUININE will quickly stop a cold in 24 hours.

This is the kind of action you need. It's the kind of action you need. It's the kind of action you need. It's the kind of action you need. It's the kind of action you need.

WALTER LUNEY WILL NOT RUN

Alderman of Four Years' Standing Changes Plan to Seek Re-Election

Alderman Walter Luney, a member of the City Council for the past four years, announced yesterday he would not seek re-election to the council. The statement came as a great surprise to his colleagues. "I have definitely decided to leave the council and will not consider returning to the lists until such time as the Municipal Act is amended to clarify the clauses governing business men on the council," Alderman Luney stated. Previously he had announced his intention of entering the civic contests.

For four years Alderman Luney was a fire warden, and chairman of the board for the past two years. He also served on the public works committee for four years, and was chairman of the group for two years. He was a member of the finance, water, electric light, legislative relief, recreation and public bureau committees.

Mayor David Leeming is still the only candidate for the majority. Candidates for six seats on the City Council include ex-Aldermen John A. Worthington and Alex Peden, Mrs. Alice McGregor, Alderman James Adams, W. Lloyd Morgan, John Neary, John Day and Harold O. Simpson. Five seats are for two-year terms and one seat for a one-year term, caused by the resignation of Alderman Percy R. Brown.

Alderman Archie Willis, Andrew McGavin and Dr. J. D. Hunter have not yet announced whether they will seek re-election.

W. H. Davies, 610 Coventry Street, has been approached by a number of Victoria West residents and business men to seek a seat on the council. He stated last evening he was giving the matter serious consideration.

FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Trustees W. G. Marech, K.C., Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin and Percy E. George are candidates for re-election to the School Board. There are three vacancies to be filled. "G. Muller" who was an unsuccessful candidate last year, has been urged by a number of friends to seek election to the board. He intends to make an announcement later in the week. Arthur C. Pike, who was also in last year's School Board contest, declared last evening he was not considering placing his name before the electorate again because of the demands of business.

Young People Give Concert For Aged Men

A party of young people and friends from the First United Church paid a visit to the Aged Men's Home on Monday evening and gave one of the most delightful programmes ever arranged by this Society. Kenneth Simpson acted as chairman and expressed the great pleasure it gave the members of the group to visit the Home annually.

The programme was as follows: Mandolin ensemble, Dorothea Cammisa, Gladys Newstead, May Wainwright, song, James Petrie; duet, J. Petrie and J. M. Thomas, songs, Bobby McMillan; cornet solo, John Gough; reading, R. Hardy; piano solo, Mrs. J. Gough; songs, Mrs. Madie Carver; Highland dancing, pupils of Miss Grant; recitation, Miss Eileen Bowman; songs, Miss L. McCall; song, J. Maurice Thomas; humorous duet, Messrs Hardy and Thomas.

Mrs. John Gough and Jack Smith acted as accompanists for the singers and instrumentalists and played the Highland dances. At the conclusion of the programme, G. H. Ward, manager of the Home, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to First United Church for the excellent programme. During the evening, Rev. E. W. Horton brought greetings on behalf of Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., and the session of the church. Refreshments were served.

Canadian Scottish Dance at Ganges

SALTSRING ISLAND, Nov. 24.—The annual dance of the 16th Canadian Scottish, organized by 18th Battalion "D" Company, was held recently in the Mahon Hall, Ganges. A party from Victoria was present, including Captain Mr. Alex Stewart, Captain Max Young, Lieutenant B. Belyea and several from Saanich.

The hall looked pretty, being decorated chiefly with flags and green foliage, orange and yellow leaves on the lamps gave a subdued light to the room, as streamers of the same colors fell in festoons from the ceiling. An orchestra from Victoria supplied the music. Supper was under the management of Mrs. Campbell and the table was decorated with small flags and holly.

Association Sees Play by Local Author

Local performers presented a play, "Deadly Poison," by a local author, Mr. H. J. Reynolds, at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Little Theatre Association in the club-room last evening. Other plays by Mr. Reynolds have been presented here, and fellow-members of the club and others congratulated him cordially upon his latest production.

In the role of director, Mr. Reynolds had chosen a well-suited cast, which included: Mrs. Betty Hetherington, Mr. Fraser Lister, Mr. Arthur Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. A. Long and Mr. Charles Gibbard. The play is full of humorous and dramatic situations, which held the interest of the audience. At the conclusion of the play, Captain Thorpe-Douglas made favorable comments.

The Beaux-Arts Society presented a play at the conclusion of the programme, the popular second act of "Private Lives," by Noel Coward, the parts being taken by Miss Mary Benson and Mr. Brian Green. Miss Mary Lindgren gave a short synopsis of the story.

During the intermissions, Miss Sheila Conway sang two soprano solos, "On Wings of Song" and "Cadenza's 'I Heard a Thrush at Eve'." Miss Audrey Wood played the accompaniment for the soloist. Pianoforte solos were played by Miss H. Harfield. She has consented to lead an orchestra, composed of members of the Little Theatre Association. Members who can play any instrument are asked to communicate with Miss Harfield. The audience was delighted with the soloist's performance, directed by Marion Peterson.

Mr. Harry Davis, the president, was chairman for the evening and announced that Mr. Lort, of the Vancouver Little Theatre Association, was a guest of the evening. Refreshments were served after the programme.

Qualicum Beach
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bailey, Qualicum Beach, announce the engagement of their third daughter, Margaret Isabel (Peggy) to Mr. Arnold B. Southon, Victoria, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Southon, Swift Current, Sask. The wedding will take place at the end of this week, at Kamloops, at the home of Mrs. E. Tisdale, sister of Mr. Southon.

Miss M. Steel returned on Monday from a brief visit to Vancouver. Miss A. Steel will be a guest of friends for the next few weeks.

Large Home Finished at Long Beach

UCLUELET, Nov. 24.—Mr. A. C. Lovekin, who has been spending a few days at Long Beach, has returned to Victoria. The beautiful new home which he has had built at Long Beach in connection with the development of the 600 acres of land which he holds there is now completed.

The contract for this large house has been let to the hands of Mr. Robert Noble, Victoria, and work has been under way for the past four months. Without doubt this artistic and spacious house at Long Beach is the most elaborate home in every detail of the West Coast. The site selected by Mr. Lovekin is high up overlooking the open Pacific Ocean, midway on Long Beach with the huge breakers rolling in directly in front, and miles of beach view extending to the east and to the west. Near the house is a large garage which will accommodate several cars, and there is a power house and other outbuildings. The power house holds all the necessary equipment for the extensive lighting, heating and water systems.

TO RETURN IN SPRING
Mr. and Mrs. Lovekin, who came here last June from California, and who have made their home at the Empress Hotel, Victoria, will expect to return to Vancouver Island in the Spring to take up residence at Long Beach.

Mr. Lovekin, who is Canadian-born, although an American citizen, has spent much time in Canada, and after traveling to all parts of the world, has returned to Vancouver Island to make his home. He is enthusiastic over the future of Long Beach and the West Coast in general and at the same time is a keen advocate for a sea-level national park on the West Coast. He expresses the opinion that the building of a road from Spruce Lake to Long Beach will be one of the greatest assets to the tourist trade on Vancouver Island, not only as to the West Coast, but to the entire Island.

"First Nighter" Programme Held

The Orange Hall was the scene of a "First Nighter" programme on Monday, when upwards of one hundred members of the order were the guests at a concert given by officers and members of the Primrose L.O.L., 1810, the feature of the evening being a community singing.

Those contributing to an excellent and varied programme were as follows: Mrs. B. Noel, Mrs. Crooks, Mrs. P. Thomas, Mrs. Ford and Mr. Alex Wilson. At the conclusion of the programme the men served refreshments, assisted by Mesdames Baker and Edmonds. Mr. Harold A. Hunt occupied the chair.

OLD-TIMERS' REUNION

Annex Tea Plans Are Advancing

The Y.W.C.A. ANNEX, which for many years has proved a boon to the older women who come within the radius of the Y.W.C.A. work, is to be thrown open on December 2 for inspection in connection with a tea and sale of work to be held that afternoon.

Under the general convenership of Miss Anna Spencer, Mrs. A. J. Dallan, Mrs. E. Lewis, Mrs. J. McIlwraith and Mrs. T. Brown, the details are now almost completely arranged, and show that there will be a musical programme by Miss Dorothy Parsons, Miss Phyllis Dwyer (who will sing duets), Miss Mason and Miss Elsie Friend; a sale of home-making in charge of Mesdames Lewis and Brown; and a table of fancywork in charge of Mrs. T. Brown, Miss Jane McIlwraith and Mrs. E. Lewis are convening the tea arrangements, and the ladies chosen to preside at the table are Mrs. C. Drummond, Mrs. H. W. Norris and Mrs. J. Grimison.

The board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association will be represented in the reception committee, which includes Mrs. Dallan, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, Mrs. Roy Angus, Mrs. W. E. Cunningham and Mrs. Gilchrist. Miss Spencer will be at the receipt of customers.

Music Now Better Understood Says Brilliant Artist

Good music is more universally understood and musicians need not play down to their audiences, today, in the opinion of Kazia Mizel, brilliant twenty-one-year-old violinist, who played to an appreciative audience here last night at the Empire Hotel. Miss Mizel was born in Winnipeg and was in Victoria two years ago when she made her Western debut.

"The standard of music is much higher now than it used to be," the artist commented.

Indicative of the better understanding of music generally, Miss Mizel explained that last year no auditorium could be found in New York large enough to accommodate all the music lovers who sought to hear Arthur Schnabel, the pianist. New York would not listen to him five years ago.

Miss Mizel was accompanied to Victoria by her mother, Mrs. E. D. Mitchell.

SIGNATURE ON
WILL FORGERYHandwriting Expert Says
Writing on Document Not
That of Mrs. Small

TORONTO, Nov. 24 (C) — The signature "T. Small" on a document purporting to be a confession of Mrs. Theresa Small to complicity in her husband's murder is a forgery, it was declared today by O. B. Staunton, handwriting expert.

Staunton was the first expert called to press to be called by T. A. Phelan, K.C., counsel for executors of the will of Mrs. Theresa Small, and defendants in the action brought by Mrs. Mary Florence Small to have the probate of the will revoked and thus obtain for herself and her sister, Gertrude, most of the $2,000,000 estate, will by Mrs. Small to Roman Catholic clergy and institutions in Toronto.

Plaintiff's case concluded with evidence of Patrick Sullivan, investigator for the Small sisters, who was told by Mr. Justice Noel Jeffrey that for sixteen years, he had engaged in a vindictive and relentless pursuit of Mrs. Theresa Small—pursuit not stopped by her death.

Again at today's session of the trial, which started more than a week ago, Mr. Justice Jeffrey defined the issues at stake. They are:

1. Is the probate of the will of Ambrose Small, under which Mrs. Small obtained his whole estate, a forgery?

2. If it is not a forgery, did Mrs. Small procure someone to bring about the death of her husband and aid them and abet them in the commission of such a crime and thus place herself in a position to benefit by his death?

Two sisters of Mrs. Small testified to the validity of the 1903 will. The two, Mrs. Mary Brennan and Mrs. Arthur Holmes, both of Toronto, identified their signatures as witnesses and told of the signing of the will in December, 1902.

WRONG REFLECTION

Mrs. Johnson (learning to drive) Henry, that little mirror up there isn't right.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

JACKSON DUE FROM ORIENT

Liner Will Arrive Between 5 And 6 o'Clock This Evening

Running about ten hours late, it will be 5 o'clock or after this evening before the American Mail Line S.S. President Jackson, Captain Morris Seaver, U.S.N.R., commander, arrives alongside Rithet Pier, inbound from the Philippines by way of China and Japan ports.

The big liner has only a fair list of passengers and will leave a number here before she continues to Seattle, where she will join the ever-growing list of passengers and freight ships being tied up owing to the maritime strike. Although the Jackson has cargo for Victoria, there will be no attempt to land it after what took place when the S.S. President Jefferson docked two weeks ago.

PASSENGER LINERS

On Friday two Pacific liners will dock here. One of them, the S.S. Niagara, of the Canadian Asiatic Line, is due alongside Rithet Pier at 7 a.m. inbound, while the other will be the Canadian Pacific's liner S.S. Empress of Asia, outbound, sailing Friday evening. The Niagara is in command of Captain William Martin, and the Asia is skippered by Captain A. V. R. Lovegrove, who is making his final voyage on the big ship.

Among the 325 passengers coming in on the Niagara will be Hon. Percy Pease, Minister of Forestry for Queensland, and Victor Greening, director of forests for Queensland, who will make a tour of Canada and the United States, studying forestry methods. Sir Walter Kinnear, member of the Australian Government and an adviser on its national insurance schemes, and Dr. (Miss) Randall Colyer, who plans to make her headquarters for several months in Victoria engaged in publicity and promotion work for the Australian Tourist Bureau throughout Canada and the United States.

WORKING ALONG AT PEAK SPEED

Mainland Waterfront Keeping Large Number of Men Busy Now

VANCOUVER, Nov. 24.—Vancouver's bustling waterfront carried on at peak speed today despite picketing by about 200 numbers of the local International Longshoremen's Association who were on strike Monday.

Deep-sea vessels in port numbered twenty-two, and all were worked today by crews dispatched through the British Columbia Shipping Federation, a local organization without United States affiliation.

1,200 MEN WORKING

About 1,200 men were working on the waterfront, an increase of between 200 and 300 from average.

Four other vessels, towed by tugboats, were anchored overnight in English Bay at the entrance to the harbor. Transportation facilities generally reported increased business owing to the United States maritime strike, but actual business of tonnage handled here since the strike began could not be obtained.

NOT AVAILABLE

Shipping interests said a "considerable" increase in cargo had been noted, but information as to the amount of United States goods shipped through Vancouver's harbor was not available.

Business sources said Vancouver manufacturers had received few if any increased orders owing to the strike. One or two small orders may have been received, they said.

Railroads, shipping concerns and storage warehouses have profited most by the strike.

ALL OCCUPANTS OF MISSING EGYPTIAN PLANE FOUND SAFE

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 24 (AP)—An Egyptian air liner, missing on a Mediterranean flight since yesterday, was found safe today with all its occupants uninjured after a forced landing on the Egyptian Coast.

Besides four crew members, occupants of the plane included a Japanese businessman and Father Anastase, a scholar and student of Arabic sworn to eternal silence.

TOURISTS ON BOARD LINER

Monterey Takes Passengers Off Barge Two Miles Off Honolulu

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24 (AP)—Most of Hawaii's mainland tourists, marooned in the islands by the widespread maritime strike, were en route to the Pacific Coast today, while conferences were planned here to discuss methods of carrying relief to Alaskan cities where food shortage is feared.

The strike-bound tourists were transferred to the liner Monterey last night from a pitching pineapple barge. The Monterey lay two miles offshore to prevent the crew from rescuing the vessel at Honolulu, and adding to the number of refugees, voluntary and involuntary.

The islands, meanwhile, awaited an answer from the Government to their plea for a relief ship with provisions.

Elsewhere in the nation the situation was fairly quiet today. Los Angeles police guarded streets and highways in the harbor area and dispersed an attempted blockade of petroleum trucks.

RELIEF FOR ALASKA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today food supplies would be on the way to maritime strike-bound Alaska "in ten days."

He told his press conference that Colonel F. O. Olson, general manager of the Alaska Railroad Company, had completed arrangements with strike leaders in San Francisco to release vessels needed to relieve reported threatened food shortage in Alaska.

Ickes said arrangements to ship food to Hawaii were incomplete, adding "the situation is not so acute there."

EDITOR DUCKED

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 24 (AP)—Violence flared briefly here today in the maritime strike as C. Leon de Argen, editor of a local crusading weekly, was thrown into the bay, apparently by union pickets aroused by his anti-strike activity.

The editor said he was accused on the mainland of the U.S. William, who docked at the embarcadero, as he attempted to leave the ship after a conference with its captain.

He stated he was beaten and choked severely by four men before they forced him into the cold waters of the bay. He was able to swim to safety.

PICKETING CONTINUES

Members of I.L.A. Occupying Street Ends Along Vancouver's Waterfront

VANCOUVER, Nov. 24 (AP)—Picketing of Vancouver's waterfront continued in dense force today as members of the local International Longshoremen's Association maintained their "unfair" designation of port activity here.

Speakers of the organization said nearly all members were on picket duty along the length of Vancouver's harbor. Police reported no violence as the I.L.A. pickets grouped peacefully at street-ends near the docks.

Destroyer's Crew Leave Ship for Barracks

Headed by the Fifth Regiment Band, the personnel of H.M.C.S. Vancouver, marched along the thoroughfares of Esquimalt yesterday morning from the Dockyard to the Naval Barracks. Old timers of the once bustling naval village rubbed their eyes at the sound of the music, and in memory harked back to the days when it was a common sight to see men of the Royal Navy on a route march, swinging behind their life and drum bands. The boys in blue yesterday were headed by Lieutenant Commander E. Kollo Mainkay, R.C.N., former captain of the destroyer. They will remain in barracks until orders arrive for them to proceed to England to take over the vessel recently purchased and awaiting their arrival there.

Longshoremen of Havre Refuse to Work U.S. Vessel

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24 (AP)—The San Francisco Bay area district council of the Maritime Federation announced today that refusal of maritime workers in Havre, France, to handle cargo on the liner George Washington was the first response from Europe to a Federation request for co-operation.

The announcement said fifty messages had been sent to maritime workers throughout the world asking for co-operation with striking Pacific Coast workers.

DATES OF LAST SHIP SAILINGS

Number of Vessels Will Leave Eastern Ports Early In December

Christmas sailings, which mean the last liners leaving Saint John, N.B., and Halifax in time to arrive at British ports in advance of Christmas Day, are always among the heavy ones of the year. Frequently, as is the case this year, it is necessary for the lines to schedule extra ships.

Actual Christmas departures this year or the Duchess of Richmond will be December 11 from Saint John, and December 12 from Halifax, to Southampton and Havre. The Duchess of York for Glasgow, Belfast and Liverpool, will sail a day later from each port.

For those who plan longer stays in the Old Country at Christmas time, the Montcalm will sail from the two maritime ports December 4 and 5 respectively.

IN OUT OF MONTREAL

In addition to the Christmas sailings from Saint John and Halifax, the last sailings out of Montreal are always looked upon as similar departures. In many cases the passenger lists on these occasions also climb into the higher brackets.

Many of the passengers are from the farm lands of the West, homeward bound for a winter's visit. Some, bound for the Continent, leave early to take in such events as the Christmas Fair at Nuremberg, which will start December 4 and last for three weeks; the celebration of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception at the Notre Dame Church at Lyons on December 8, or the St. Lucia Festival at Stockholm, December 13.

This year's pre-Christmas sailings from Montreal will be those of the Duchess of Bedford to Glasgow, Belfast and Liverpool, today at 10 a.m. and the Montrose to Havre, Southampton and Liverpool at day-break tomorrow.

CATCHES AND VALUES DROP

Canadian Fishermen Were Not So Fortunate in September Operations

"Fickle fortune played, favorites among Canadian coast provinces in September with the net result that total catch and landed value of sea food and shellfish during the month were less than they had been in September last year.

The uncertain tide treated the fishermen of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in more kindly manner than was the case a year ago, but she turned in disfavor upon their comrades of British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Quebec, according to figures released by the Federal Department of Fisheries.

Decreases more than equaled gains and the consequence was that aggregate catch, less than 1,000,000 hundredweight, according to unreviewed reports, was 190,000 hundredweight or so smaller than the catch of September 1935 and total landed value, something under $1,500,000, showed a drop of more than $250,000.

On the Pacific Coast the main factors in pulling the monthly figures below those of a year ago were reductions in the catches of salmon and herring. The herring and ling cod landings and value both increased in British Columbia and halibut landed value was up a few thousand dollars, but the total showed some decrease in the quantity of fish brought ashore. Changes in the result of operations in the other Pacific fisheries were relatively unimportant.

THE TUTTS ... By Crawford Young

"Long skirts," says a motoring correspondent in an article dealing with the forthcoming Motor Show, are no longer merely a fashion. They are here to stay because they are useful as well as improving a motor car's line.

Jane Dixon Says:

I HAVE RECEIVED A FLOOD OF LETTERS FROM DISSATISFIED WIVES, TELLING ME THEY HAVE BEEN CUT OFF FROM THEIR HUSBANDS' ESTATES AND THAT LITTLE OR NO PROVISION HAS BEEN MADE FOR THEM IN CASE OF WIDOWHOOD.

In the past several weeks I have received a flood of letters from dissatisfied wives, telling me that they have been cut off from their husband's estates and that little or no provision has been made for them in case of widowhood.

Invariably the beneficiary is a relative of the husband's—mother, sister, brother—or the estate has been apportioned among a number of such relatives.

There have been cases in which a wife who helped to build up some material security for the future by continuing to be a wage earner after marriage or by working in her husband's place of business has discovered that not only her husband's savings, but her own, are bequeathed to his kinsfolk in case of his demise.

An incredible number of husbands have neglected or refused to change their life insurance policies and name their wives as at least part beneficiary. One might suspect the husbands fear they'd be treated to a few drops of something deadly in their coffee did they put a premium on their passing—were it not that a majority of the wives, who complain assure me that their husbands are kind and considerate in every other respect, and protest an abiding love for the women of their choice.

Perhaps a certain kind of man can love a woman and not care a jot what happens to her after his curtain descends.

What do I think of such a man?

I think plenty, all of it unfavorable.

He's not my kind of man, and he should not be the kind of man for any wife who gives the best of herself to the success of her husband and her home.

HUSBAND'S ATTITUDE MYSTIFIES HER

Dear Miss Dixon: More than a year ago I married a man I'd been going with for a number of years.

I'm in my late twenties. He's in his early forties. We would have married earlier had it not been for responsibilities both of us had to meet.

Previous to our marriage he lived with a married sister who is well fixed financially. Never did this sister contribute one cent to the care of an invalid mother. My husband provided everything for her. He even borrowed from his sister a large sum of money in order to pay for certain highly specialized treatments in the hope of lengthening his mother's life. The treatments failed to save her. She died a few months later, and my husband has worked and saved and has paid back every cent of this money with interest.

Though I live within a stone's throw of his sister's house she has ignored me completely. I don't know why. My reputation is without blemish.

When my husband was a small boy his mother took out life insurance on him, made payable to her. Now that she is gone, his sister is the beneficiary. She holds the policies and my husband refuses to ask her for them. In fact he walks away when I attempt to discuss the subject. I know he has money in the bank, but you know as well as I do how much. He will allow me to know nothing of our finances.

SHOULD IGNORE HIS SISTER

It isn't as though I was a spendthrift, for I'm saving in every thing—even manage to save a bit from my household allowance.

My husband's attitude is beyond me. Certainly he never showed such obstinate traits during our long courtship. I'll appreciate any suggestions you have to offer.—F.F.

Answer:—In all justice the mother should have left those life insurance policies to her son, to do with what he wished. But if she left them to the daughter, even if his life is the power, there is nothing you can do about it. I suspect the sister's discourteous treatment of you hinges on those policies.

Her petulant behavior toward her mother and brother is pinching her conscience—if she has a conscience—and she is trying to dull the pinch by pretending it doesn't exist. Why don't you do a "baiter" job of snoring. Put her completely out of your mind. Never mention her name to your husband or to any other person. When her name is mentioned in your presence change the subject or take a walk. When you meet her, don't turn your head. Look right through and beyond her. To you she would be non-existent.

It is your right to know the condition of the family finances, and none except you can decide whether or not you should exercise this right by demanding an accounting and taking steps to force one if it is refused.

LOSES LIFE IN SWOLLEN RIVER

H. Kilott Presumed Drowned At Quatsino—Floods Do Considerable Damage

QUATSINO, Nov. 24.—Up until dark last night, archers for the body of H. Kilott, looking superintendent of the British Columbia Ship & Paper Company's camp, had failed to find anything of him other than his hat and coat. Mr. Kilott on Wednesday afternoon fell from a bridge crossing a small river at the head of the southeast arm of Quatsino Sound. The river was swollen to almost flood proportions by the rains of the early part of the week.

Due to the heavy rains in this part of the island on Tuesday and Wednesday the rivers were all swollen to flood proportions and at least one bridge was washed out. The bridge over what is known as Day Creek on the Hardy Bay to Coal Harbor Road was washed out early Wednesday morning, thereby holding up the mail service for several hours.

It was rumored that the heavy rains had also washed out part of the road from June Landing to the Coast Copper Mines.

John Judd Laid To His Last Rest

GANGES, Nov. 24.—The funeral of John Judd, aged twenty-one, who died suddenly following an operation in the Lady Minto Guit Islands Hospital on Tuesday afternoon, took place on Friday.

Service was held in St. Mark's Church, Ganges, at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Judd was born in Victoria and has been resident at Ganges for several years. He is survived by his father in Portland, Ore., one brother in England, one in Montreal and another, George Judd, of Ganges.

Striving to please
